Barrett Standing On Experience In Bid For Election

Sheriff Candidate Pledges 24 Hour Service to Nevada County

Thos. J. (Tommy) Barrett, widely known Nevada County citizen and resident of Lucas Lane, Grass Valley, announces that at the importuning of friends and upon the basis of his own experience and knowledge in police and peace officer work, he has become a candidate for the office of sheriff of Nevada County. Election day will be Tuesday, June 4th, of this year.

BARRETT

Barrett's fifteen years background in professional police activity includes the full range of criminal investigation and finger-printing as chief deputy sheriff and an adminstrator qualified in the routine and conduct of the office of the county's chief peace officer.

In making police work his study and chief interest, Barrett has qualified for a federal radio operators licence and diploma which was issued by J. Edgar Hoover on successful completion of a police school of instruction under FBI auspices and supervision.

More specifically, the sheriff candidate envisions a modernization of procedure and practice of the sheriff's office, invoking the newer means of communication and information. He also plans, in the event of his election, to place the office on a 24-hour administrative basis and guarantees that any calls for information, assistance or direct peace officer aid will be made on the spot.

The candidate is convinced that people who ask for peace officer assistance are entitled to an immediate response on investigation.

As a resident of the county for 14 years, with public contacts throughout his life in personnel work with the Idaho Maryland mine, field agent and interviewer with the Nevada County welfare office and in serving the public in a retail sales capacity, Barrett knows what the public expects and he is determined to give them the very best of his intelligence, time and energy.

Apparently knocked from a west-bound train as it entered Tunnel 13 at Norden Sunday, Harold L. Hood, a Southern Pacific Company brakeman, who lives at Sacramento, was left in a dazed condition at the side of the track for some time before he was discovered by the crew of another train.

Hood was rushed by ambulance to the Southern Pacific Hospital at San Francisco.

Hood left Sacramento Friday night and was returning from Sparks when the accident occurred. Al Pfaendler, special officer for the Southern Pacific, said that he made an investigation but was puzzled as to how Hood was knocked from the train.

The summer season, he said, would start about July 1 and extend into September.

Reel drove blissfully through the station and an immediate call was placed by Inspector W. C. Gage to the highway patrol. Reel traveled fast and by the time the state teletype system spread the word, he had reached Auburn.

He was required to drive back from Auburn and his car was given a thorough inspection, following which he appeared before Justice of the Peace C. E. Smith where he was sentenced to pay a $50 fine.

The people of California pay more for education than for any other single cost of our government and at the same time pay less attention to the schools than any other branch. This being Public Schools Week, we believe that at least for the week, taxpayers should devote a little time to the conduct of our schools. We are inclined to sit back and let the school atuhorities proceed on their unmolested way and whether they be right or wrong there is seldom a word uttered for or against the administration. We know our schools are not perfect, but do we know how far from standard they are? What improvements, if any, can be made? Are the children getting all they should for the amount of money expended? These and a hundred other questions may well be asked during Public Schools Week and every other week of the year, for that matter. If the schools are satisfactory, tell your trustees and the teachers. If they are not let them know what improvements, if any, you desire. After all, it's your money they are spending and the welfare of your children they have in their hands.

Local fishermen are beginning to look over their equipment for the opening of the trout season on the Truckee River, Donner Lake, Lake Tahoe and Boca Reservoir on May 1 However, those who are preparing to fish elsewhere in this district on the first of next month are going to find themselves in trouble, for the season does not open until May 30 on the tributary streams and lakes. Game Warden Bill LaMarr is doing his best to post the closed area and warn fishermen, but undoubtedly there will be those who will fail to heed the warnings and if apprehended will find hat it was not worth their while to violate the new law. Excuses of gnorance are not going to bear much weight, so it will be best to confine fishing activities to the waters which are open and not attempt to get the jump on other fishermen by invading the surrounding streams ahead of time.

The last day to register for the June 4 Primary Election is April 25—just 14 days from now. Unless you are already registered to vote register NOW. Those 14 days will pass swiftly and the books will be definitely and finally closed on April 2?

JUDICIAL CANDIDATE HAS GOOD RECORD IN LEGAL BACKGROUND

Vernon Stoll, 42-year-old Nevada county practicing attorney with an experience of 16½ years in public, civil and criminal law in Nevada county, has qualified for the June 4 ballot as a nominee for the office of Judge of the Superior Court of Nevada county.

With sincere realization of the duties of the office and believing himself capable of administering the judicial post with complete fairness, humaneness and sympathy, he respectfully asks the support of the people on the forthcoming election day.

Vernon Stoll is "part and parcel" of Nevada county by residence, deeds action and enthusiasm.

He is a native of this state, spending his earlier years in residence at Red Bluff and Berkeley. Matriculating at the University of California, he graduated from Boalt College of Law.

Stoll's entire legal practice has been conducted from this county. For eight of the 16 years, he served the county faithfully and efficiently as district attorney. He has a complete understanding of public law as it applies to political subdivisions and agencies. He has practiced consistently and successfully in civil and criminal law gaining an experience for consideration, deliberation and determination which naturally equips him for the office of superior court judge.

DEVELOPED BY U.N. PROF, SNOW SURVEY IS VITAL TO MANY

A drought conference held before the drought occurred, streams of irrigation water flowing past parched up-river farms to fulfill prior claims below, and power plants planned for mountain streams but never built—these are but three incidents of many, involving thousands of dollars and the need for water, in which results of snow surveys born in Nevada, have been the decisive factor.

Snow surveying, which determines the amount of water contained in a season's snowfall and the probable volume and rate of run off of the water, was originated by Dr. J. E. Church, who was for years professor of classics at the University of Nevada and is still chief in station meterology for the U. of N., agricultural experiment station.

It is now a worldwide science, which annually saves incalculable sums for farmers, lumbermen, power companies and the forest service.

Predicted Drought

It has now been more than ten years since the drought conference was held in Utah to forestall the effects of a dry season which the snow survey experts, including Dr. Church, declared was bound to come.

Warned by these reports of scant moisture in the mountains, the Utah farmers planned their water expenditures in detail.

Extra wells were dug, cattle were shipped to safer areas, and water carefully conserved. The dry season came as the snow experts had foretold, but loss of cattle and crops was materially reduced because of the foreknowledge of the drought.

A few years later, when a snow survey indicated that Walker River basin farmers would have more than enough water for all, older settlers on the east and west Walker whose water rights took priority over newcomers, somewhat dubiously on the word of the snow survey forecasts shared their early water with the newcomers. True to the forecast there was water for all during the season and crops of the newcomers were not stunted.

A third decision, even more dramatic, involved the Humboldt River a few years ago. Snow surveys indicated a dry year for users of the Humboldt waters, although early in the spring moisture was plentiful.

Heartbreakingly, farmers on the upper reaches of the river whose water rights were recent, watched the water pour past their crops to the prior-right lands below. But the forecasts proved accurate and the crops in the lower valley were saved because the early water was conserved for late season use.

Affects Power Plants

Power companies planning dams and plants have learned to rely on snow survey results to estimate the number of plants which can be safely installed on a given stream.

When the Sierra Pacific Power Company installed lines to Tahoe, original plans called for more plants. Cautious executives consulted snow survey records and cut the number of plants, arranging instead to purchase additional power from over the Sierra in drought years.

On the California side, the Pacific Gas and Electric Company regularly depends on snow survey forecasts to tell whether or not extra fuel supplies will be needed to run the generators during the dry summer months.

Aid to Forest Service

Forest service people rely on snow survey figures to tell them the probable water in the soil during the summer, and thus forest rangers plan for fire protection in extra dry years when water is so drained from soil, streams, and plant life that pine needles almost explode into flame at the approach of a spark

Soil conservation planners, lumbermen who depend on runoff waters at certain seasons to float their logs to market and who can time logging to the period of most water flow by snow survey forecasts, weather bureau experts who use snow surveys together with precipitation cans to figure annual precipitation, fish and wildlife service and the bureau of reclamation are a few of the other group which lean heavily on snow survey reports in making accurat forecasts and plans.

Throughout the world snow surveys, most of them patterned after Dr. Church's original Sierra apparatus, are regularly used to prevent loss of life and property in drought and flood, as well as to aid in planning for power plants and farm sites.

Cancer Costly To U. S. Business

"As a simple matter of dollars and cents, aside from the humanitarian angle, every American business and industry has a vital stake in curbing cancer."

This was the declaration of George C. Montgomery, chairman of the Northern California of the American Cancer Society Campaign, who pointed out that, unless chcekd, cancer threatens to destroy one of every eight executives, employees and customers.

Tremendous hidden losses are sustained in the United States each year because of cancer; and this loss falls in large measure on free business and industrial enterprise," Montgomery said.

"For instance," he continued, "medical costs of cancer deaths in the United States are conservatively estimated at $220,000,000 a year. The economic cost to the immediate families of cancer victims is estimated at the huge sum of $800,000,000 a year This loss, in large measure, falls or business.

"Cancer is a progressively debilitating disease. Too often it attacks executives and skilled workers at the peak of their usefulness, removing them from the scene after a period of decreasing efficiency and increasing anguish and suffering.

"This tremendous loss of manpower and maney can and must be stopped Even on the basis of present medica' knowledge and techniques at least 30 and prehaps 50 percent of those of working age who die of cancer today could be saved if—through proper education—they could be brought to seek diagnosis and proper treatment in time. Cancer research offers the hope not only of constantly increasing the number who can be saved, but also of ultimately eliminating cancer as a major cause of death.

"It has always been true—and it is especially important to demonstrate this now—that American business has accepted its responsibilities to the country and to the community. Call these responsibilites of a social nature, if you will, and charge the expenditure to public relations, or goodwill, but let's lick cancer the American way—together."

Northern California campaign headquarters of the American Cancer Society, which is charged with curbing cancer through preventive education service and research, is at 111 Sutter Street, Room 819-20, San Francisco.

BUTTER MAKING IN STATE HITS 50-YEAR LOW MARK IN 1945

Butter manufacture in California in 1945 declined to 15,431,000 pounds. less than half the amount reported as manufactured in 1896, the first year for which such data are available. This compares with the total of 29,466,000 pounds in 1944 and a five-year average of 62,850,000.

SEAWELL PLEDGES RIGID RULE ON SALES TO MINORS

ROSEVILLE—State Senator Jerrold L. Seawell, candidate on both Republican and Democratic tickets for third district board of equalization member, this week pledged that if elected he will demand strict enforcement of the law prohibiting sales or intoxicating liquors to minors, as he feels this malignant practice is a contributing factor to juvenile delinquency.

"The mothers and fathers of children in my district can be assured that I will personally consider every complaint where intoxicating liquor has been sold to minors," Seawell said.

"Those found guilty of such practice will not only be suspended—they will be put out of business."

hTe state legislator, who has had a hand in framing legislation against selling liquor to boys and girls under 21, said that the legitimate and law-abiding members of the liquor industry need have no fear under this policy.

Seawell said he felt sure that the honest license holder would have no objection to this type of law enforcement.

Senator Seawell, president pro tem of the senate the past six years, will visit all of the 25 counties which comprise the third district before the June 4th primaries.

What's Enough?

Looking Ahead

WHAT will John Q. Public pay for what he wants. He will pay every cent he thinks it is worth to him. Ultimately he will be willing to pay more, if he finds out the item is worth more than he first thought. On the other hand he will kick at the price and refuse to pay it as soon as he finds out the thing is worth less to him than the money he paid for it.

These statements are so plain and simple that any schoolboy is able to understand them. You would hardly think anybody could get these facts mixed-up, but they do. Under them is hid the 1946 labor-management problem which is the most serious one that ever confronted this nation. What lies behind all the headlines telling about strikes?

Ideas Differ BRIEFLY, union laborers are asking their employers for more pay—more wages than the employers (for some reason) are willing to lay out. All trades, especially farmers, want laborers to draw high wages because that's the key to good times. Farmers enjoy good markets when labor prospers. Why not pay working men whatever they ask?

Answer: The workers' wages, just like the owner's profits, come out of what John Q. Public will pay for what he wants. If the price is too steep for John, then there's no sale and no profits and presently no wages. If the price is reasonable, John buys. That makes profits and wages. It makes better jobs and more of them, and prosperity.

Higher Wages IN MOST cases, when wages advance prices must advance also to cover the expense. There is no other way to raise wages except by boosting prices unless the prices already in force are fictitious and unfair, something competition seldom permits. Customers object to wage increases only when they call for price increases to cover them. But even then, Mr. Public is not always right.

Many a wage increase is sound even when prices have to be raised immediately to cover them. Raising prices to pay better wages is good business. up to a point. But what point? Up to the point that John Q. Public quits buying. So long as volume stays large, the price is sound. When volume drops off and prices are boosted to pay for the blunder, that's unsound.

There are experts in every business who estimate accurately how many of this-or-that will sell for some stipulated price. They know long before the first one is made. This year, when steady jobs at good pay are so vital, prices should be set in advance to get volume sales and make jobs. Labor, as well as industry, should be interested in the right prices.

BAD PRESS HURTING ARMY DRIVE FOR MEN SAYS GENERAL

SACRAMENTO, April 11 —(UP)— Maj. Gen. Harold N. Gilbert, director of the military personnel procurement service, who visited the capitol on his way to inspect army installations in the state, declared that the "airing of publicity which gives an adverse inflection makes the recruiting job just that much harder."

The general hit at army critics and declared that our once mighty war machine is now, after seven short months, "practically ineffective from a combat standpoint."

"We have just started an all-out recruiting campaign," Gilbert said and "thus far we have enlisted 635,000 men."

However, he added, that result good as it sounds is far below our goal. Army recruiting is endeavoring to build a regular army of 1,500,000 by July 1, through the voluntary system.

MY PLACE in the SUN

by DOUG BARRETT

"California leads all other states in the number of licensed pilots by a wide margin." This bit of intelligence came under my eye as I was thinking about teh proposed air field near here. An open meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held soon to select a new board of directors and to discuss the community program for the coming year. High on the agenda will be the airport project and it should be given very serious consideration by all citizens of the community. The growing emphasis on air travel and the air age makes it imperative that we give more than passing and academic interest to the problem of an adequate flight strip in Truckee. At least one of the new directors of the chamber should be a man who is vitally and personally interested in the project. In addition, the problem should be brought into the open and given to general discussion backed with facts and figures

Street Seens: Al Pfaendler and Dave Cabona talking over the political situation on their respective sides of the track....Cozzi's new neon adding its brilliance to the little white way....Tony Pace hopefully arranging a springy display in the Truckee Merc window....Harry Digesti looking very much like a working man Sarge Reynolds flexing his muscle over one of the iron crash pipes in front of the Coffee Shop....Jerry Kane trundling supplies from Tonini's store room to the store....Vina Clepper and Miriam Zwarg off on a jaunt to L. A.....a bunch of the boys going Renoward for IOOF initiation Road Boss Jimmy McIver and the boys moving boulders on River Street, having already done so on Church Street....Ronald Gautsche electioneering....Mel Thornton, George Carter and Bill Wright having a happy reunion in front of Truckee Bakery Harrie, Lois and Harriet Tackett eating out....Joe Mattos and Tip out for a dewy constitutional....Mrs. Wm. Langbehn of Tahoe made us feel good by her compliment on our production

If you've missed it so far, give the high school display in the Rasco window a gander....and don't miss the grammar school operetta Friday night. On both these the kids have worked hard and their great efforts should justify your attention.

Wyethia Club Enjoys Fashion Show at Meet

The Homemaking Class of Meadow Lake Union High School under the direction of Miss Marylois Moberg presented a program "Our Easter Parade" at the meeting of the Wyethia Club on Thursday, April 4th. The girls modeled dresses and suits which they had made at school and brought forth much favorable comment. The music under the direction of Mrs. Jack Wolert was furnished by a chorus of girls from the grammar school and the high school.

The program opened with "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning" by the chorus, then Crystal Anderson appeared fresh and charming in a powder blue seersucker dress, Alice Waters in a neat navy blue gabardine suit was ready for church or school; Lois Farrar so cool and fresh in her green and white seersucker dress; Yolanda Giovannoni gay and colorful in a red wool two piece dress which could be worn to school, church or party; Gertrude Smith gay in her yellow plaid. Joan Pabst and Dorothy Parkhurst achieved an original finish in their treatment of summery mesh, secure in the knowledge that after four they could go anywhere they pleased correctly gowned. "Let's go dancing" was the theme of Esperanza Garcia and Benita Mellon, Esparanza in navy blue and Benita in yellow. During the presentation the chorus sang Tea for Two, I'm Always Chasing Rainbows and Easter Parade.

In the chorus were Gertrude Waters, Bobbie Jean Dolley, Wilma Heath, Ella Waters, Joan Ghirard, Viola Anderson, Marlene Mahne, Georgeann Grigg, Babe Doi, Joy Hodson, Harriet Tackett, Marjorie Hocker, Patty Kenny, Betty Copeland, Nellie Reyes, Betty Parkhurst, Ruth Maeda, Kay Baba and Ofelia Dominguez.

Mrs. Lee of San Francisco and Grass Valley spoke briefly on the tuberculosis x-ray unit to be held at the fire house on Friday afternoon, April 12th.

Tea hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. Verne Shattuck, Mrs. Wm. Englehart, Sr., and Mrs. B. J. Riordan.

Nevada Couny Incomes Show Slight Decline

Individual incomes of Nevada county civilians totalled $10,150,000 in 1944, according to a suvrey by the research department of the California State Chamber of Commerce, announced today. This was a decrease of 1.8 per cent from the 1939 individual income figure of $10,339,000. During this five year period, California's civilian individual incomes gained 144.6 per cent, with a 109.8 per cent national gain.

Impact of wartime population and industrial changes on the economy of California counties is appraised in the study, measured by net incomes from wages and salaries, proprietors' profits, property, and other sources.

Proprietors' net incomes—profits of proprietors and partners in noncorporate farm and business enterprises in Nevada county increased from $961,000 in 1939 to $1,493,000 in 1944.

Property income—including dividends, interest, net rentals and royalties—was $1,425,000 in 1939 and $1,037,000 in 1944.

Other income—a classification including pensions, relief, compensation, social security and, in 1944, military dependents' allotments and veterans' muster-out pay—increased from $1,118,000 in 1939 to $1,222,000 in 1944.

Principal source of wage and salary income to Nevada county residents was trade and service enterprises which amounted to $1,701,000 in 1944. Utilities operation accounted for $1,015,000, manufacturing for $708,000 and agriculture for $176,000 in the 1944 local payrolls.

In the Mountain Counties region—comprising Alpine, Amador, Calaveras, Eldorado, Lassen, Mariposa, Modoc Mono, Nevada, Placer, Plumas, Sierra, Siskiyou, Trinity and Tuolumne counties, civilian incomes rose from $102,674,000 in 1939 to $173,371,000 in 1944, or a gain of 68.86 per cent. Wages and salaries climbed from $68,683,000 in 1939 to $110,624,000 in 1944, or a gain of 61.06 per cent as compared to an average over the state of 177.2 per cent.

California's individual income of civilians rose from $5,013,000,00 in 1939 to $12,263,400,000 in 1944 and, according to preliminary estimates, dropped to $11,492,100,000 in 1945. The statewide civilian per capita income was $1480 in 1944, compared with the 1944 civilian per capita income of $1082 and California's 1939 per capita of $714.

The regular number of employees will be increased from 52 to 225. Cost of operating the White House will increase $56,000 to a total of $883,660.

Engle Votes to Continue Lend-Lease In House

A move to save $200,000,000 worth of lumber, farm equipment and other material still being sent via lend-lease to foreign nations was opposed recently in the House of Representatives by some California Democrats.

Among those voting to continue lend-lease was Rep. Clair Engle of the 2nd District. Engle voted with the majority, the vote being 170 to 143.

$400,000,000 construction program under way on the Pacific Coast

During the next five years, a four hundred million dollar construction program is planned to improve and expand telephone service on the Pacific Coast.

This program is already under way and is going ahead steadily.

In 1946 alone, more than 70 building projects, installation of eight billion feet of wire in exchange cable and construction of 200,000 miles of toll and long distance circuits are expected to be completed. Work will be started on the Western part of a nation-wide coaxial cable network for long distance and television transmission, and in the next few years many new services and improvements will be introduced.

For it is our purpose to grow with the West and to help the West grow—to provide an ever-widening, ever-improving telephone service.

TAHOE LETTER To The Servicemen

From SWANEE

Tahoe City, California.
April 7th, 1946

Dear Tahoeites—

It's Sunday again and time to catch up with the news of the past week. Went to Reno yesterday and got caught in a snowstorm that swept the mountain area between Truckee and Reno while coming home in the evening. Seems there is just no letup in the storms. Today was partly nice and partly threatening, as light snow fell during the afternoon. The barometer still remains in the doubtful area, so can't say whether weather conditions will clear or not. Saw my first robin this morning, as he waited patiently on a pine bough for the chickadees to vacate the windowsill. As we remember our springs, seems the robins as yet are very scarce and very late in returning to the lake and I have seen none of the strange and beautiful birds which usually come our way about this time from other climes.

The Floyd Carnells received their long anticipated telephone call on Friday of last week from son Tom Dick, who reached New York and hastened to telephone to let them know he was at last back on good old American terra firma. He is enroute home at this writing and will check in at Camp Beale where he expects to be detained only a short time before entraining for Tahoe and home. He will return to a new home which he has never seen, one his folks built during his absence in Austria, with a specially furnished room all his own. Tahoe welcomes you back, Dick, and trusts a happy future lies ahead.

From Furstenfeldbruck, Bavaria, had another letter from son, Jimmy who wrote on March 27th. On the morrow, his 19th birthday, he and three companions, would be on their way to their permanent assignment just disclosed to them. They will be stationed with the 59th Weather WG at the AAF headquarters at Weisbaden, Germany. He is quite pleased and looking forward with considerable anticipation to his new post. Will have his new address as soon as it arrives. From Furstenfeldbruck he wrote that our army is having trouble daily with the Germans who make teh mistake of attacking American soldiers. Two American officers and three enlisted men had been killed since Jim's arrival and at least one German a night was killed for breaking restrictions of one kind or another. He at last answered my query regarding his lost dufflebag. It remains lost with all his treasured pictures of Tahoe and friends, and all his personal belongings. The army furnished him with a new issue of clothing but loss of his "personals" dealt his morale a severe blow. Am anxiously awaiting his arrival at Weisbaden and an account of his permanent base while in Germany.

Mr. and Mrs. Les McIntyre of Tahoe City are looking forward to the conclusion of her teaching career in June, she being the former very capable elementary grade teacher Norma Nelson. McIntyre, recently discharged from the service, has been going to San Francisco weekly for musical instruction and plans to attend school and become a professional musician when his wife has completed her teaching term here. They now occupy the Wathen residence at Tahoe City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sturgis of Tahoe Park Store have been busy most of the winter remodeling, renovating and enlarging their premises preparing for a record summer business. Their dining room has been enlarged to three times its original size and freshly painted, and the store and butcher shop too have undergone improvements. Mr. and Mrs. Sturgis returned last week from a shopping tour in the bay region, during which they purchased a large stock for their gift section. They will be assisted this summer in the store by their nephew and his wife, former Capt. and Mrs. Gordon McEachron, who are now in for the season.

Lt. and Mrs. J. R. Scully of Berkeley left Monday following a three-day vacation at Schleuter's Cabins. Lt. Scully is a cousin of the Prusso boys, Ray and Sherwood, and is on terminal leave.

Mrs. Evelyn Bliss, Tahoe's justice of the peace, returned to her Tahoe home from Auburn where she spent the winter. She is recuperating from the effects of a bad cold. One of the first tasks she performed on Sunday was to unite in marriage John Kraft of San Francisco, field representative of the Red Cross, and Rosemary Demski of Riverside. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mayfield served as witnesses....Mrs. Bliss reports Tahoe well over the top in the Red Cross drive with a total on Monday morning of $1,870, our quota having been $1,500. The drive is not yet closed and contributions are still being accepted, as a number of persons have not yet made their customary offerings.

News continues scarce but the weather continues to remain of interest. As I look from my windows the skies are overcast and snow is falling although the sun shone for a brief spell earlier in the day.

Ring off for another week and hope by next week to again report some spring sunshine and warmth, as we natives are getting pretty tired of snof and rain when it should be breaking up.

May good luck and good cheer be the lot of all of you and may God be with you today and always. Ever, Swanee.

Army Morale Old Worry Says UCLA Professor

SACRAMENTO, April 11 —(UP)— Dr. Arthur Patch McKinley, professor of Latin emeritus at UCLA, suggests that history may hold the answer to the heated argument of the state of morale of the enlisted service man.

The professor suggests alcohol—no quantity specified—and the authority is ancient Byzantine history of some 2,300 years ago.

"An empire builder, possibly Philip or Antiochus, was besieging Byzantium, later called Constantinople. It was imperative to maintain a strong force of soldiers on the wall but the men kept deserting their posts. The captain was resourceful. He had the tavern keepers open up wine shops on the walls. The plan worked: the desertions ceased."

4,000,000 Drivers

Some 4,000,000 people drive motor cars in California. There were 3,555,617 licensed operators and 219,096 chauffeurs registered on February 1, 1946; also, an estimated 300,000 with alid out of state licenses.

San Quentin Convicts To Work in Forests

SACRAMENTO, April 11 —(UP)— The opening of four camps in Siskiyou and Plumas counties May 15, to which 250 San Quentin prison trusties will be sent to do forestry work, will help relieve the serious overcrowding at the institution, John H. Klinger, deputy director of the department of corrections, reported.

The prison's present population on March 31 was 3,926, or some 1,065 over the normal capacity figured on the basis of one man per cell, Klinger said.

The trusties will do blister rust control work and fight forest fires under supervision of federal forest rangers in three camps in Siskiyou and one in Plumas county. The camps will close October 15, he stated.

Started as a wartime program, made necessary by the shortage of men available for that type of work, the department sends out prisoners who are close to parole. Such men, Klinger points out, are careful not to get into trouble and it provides them a chance to improve their physical condition and accumulate a little money. They are paid going rates less camp expenses.

During the forest fire season additional groups of pre-selected trusties are held in readiness to go directly from San Quentin to state and federal forests as needed, Klinger said.

Dr. Empey, retiring president of teh tuberculosis association, moved that a letter be written Governor Earl Warren expressing the group's approval of the use these buildings for a public hospital to be maintained by the state of California.

Bank of America Moves To Aid Vets' Housing

Following the recent U. S. government order directing building materials into channels for the construction of homes for veterans, Bank of America has announced a statewide program to retrain over 1,000 members of its staff as specialists in veterans loans under the newly liberalized G.I. Bill of Rights.

In addition, each of the bank's branches is to have a veteran's counsellor to whom veterans of World War II may turn for information on loans and other matters of interest to them.

Declaring that "the veteran is getting a break in housing at last," Bank of America officers point out that the recent amendments to the G.I. Bill "took out hocus pocus, eliminated the red tape and streamlined the procedure."

It was further stated that under the new regulations the Bank of America is prepared to make loans to veterans on homes costing up to $10,000 without a down payment, provided the veteran complies with the requirement of sufficient income to take care of the payments, and appraisal shows that the property is priced in line with present day cost factors.

A new state headquarters for the Motor Vehicle Department is to be erected in Sacramento at a cost of $1,600,000, the department having outgrown its present headquarters, opened only a decade ago.

Best opportunities are provided in new food stores, general stores, eating and drinking places, automobile sales agencies and service stations, officials point out.

The board ras issued more sales tax permits to private business concerns this year than in any prewar year.

LOOK to Greyhound first for

LOCAL CIVIC INTEREST

Greyhound has grown steadily with the cities of California.

Greyhound folks and their families work, play and live in your communities...are neighbors and friends of yours. Naturally, therefore, Greyhound is intensely interested in every form of local civic welfare and continued progress of the cities and towns of which it is a part. It is proud of the vigorous role its people have performed in helping to build and strengthen California cities with first-class motor transportation.

In providing this vital community service Greyhound has led the way...all the way. This clear-cut leadership in modern bus transportation can only be explained by the fact that Greyhound has always acted, and will continue to act, on the principle that what is good for your community is good for Greyhound.

Los Angeles Now Fourth City in U.S., Census Says

LOS ANGELES—This city is now the nation's fourth largest, according to the official Federal Census Bureau count which fixed Los Angeles' population as of January 28, this year, of 1,805,687.

The special nose-counting took place after the city had alloted $180,000 for the survey, to boost the city's share of state gasoline and auto tax funds, which are allocated according to population.

The last official census, taken in 1940, showed that Los Angeles had 1,504,277 residents.

The special census reveals a population increase of over a quarter-million during the war years.

TROUT PLANTED IN SCATTERED SPOTS BY FISH AND GAME

Indian Valley Fish Hatchery in Sierra County received 300,000 rainbow trout eggs from Mt. Whitney Hatchery. Harry E. Cole, in charge at Indian Valley, expects another 300,000 rainbow eggs about the middle of April for planting in nearby streams.

A total of 2000 trout were planted recently in the North Fork of San Gabriel Rier, according to the National Automobile Club. There has been seining activity for trout at Morris dam. About 350 had been taken by the end of last week and relesaed in Dam No. 1. Average size of the transferred trout was four pounds.

Trout are running out of the North Fork of the Feather River in Butte County into side streams and out of reservoirs to spawn. There is little chance for a good water year in the district now and all streams are below normal flow for this time of year.

Highway Markings Are Changed

The yellow "No Passing" traffic line so familiar to California motorists traveling over state highways is on its way out.

Director of Public Works C. H. Purcell announces that pursuant to authority vested in the Department of Public Works by law and in conformity with the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1944 designed to effect, among other things, a uniform national system of highwa signs and traffic control devices, he has executed the required legal order of "No Passing" zones with two continuous or solid parallel white lines where overtaking and passing slower moving vehicles is prohibited, and a combination solid and broken white line when passing is restricted in one direction for vehicles approaching a blind crest of grade.

A solid white or barrier line on the right of the broken line and in the driver's lane will indicate "No Passing."

A driver may overtake and pass a slower moving vehicle if the broken ine is in the driver's lane, providing the way ahead is clear.

The California Vehicle Code provides for a distinctive pavemen marking for "No Passing" zones. These zones are designated where either the volume of traffic or the vertical or horizontal curvature of the roadway renders it hazardous to attempt to drive to the left of such markings.

"It will require several months," Purcell said, "to change the markings at all 'No Passing' zones and eliminate the yellow line now used to indicate 'No Passing'. There will be a transition period during which both the present and new type of markings will be in place and must legally be observed."

Work on Highway 50

Construction work on the Meyers Grade portion of U. S. 50, which was interrupted by the war, will be resumed as soon as the snow has melted, and it is expected that the project will be completed during the summer months. There will be no interruption of traffic during the construction period, the California State Automobile Association reports.

Preliminary work has also been started on construction of a new section of U. S. 50 between Pollock Pines and Fresh Pond. The automobile association reports that some delay to automobile traffic may be occasioned by this work as it progresses. Building of a new section has also begun between Shingle Springs and El Dorado, but no interference with travel is anticipated because the new road will not follow the present alignment.

TAVERN KEEPER IS IN RACE FOR POST ON STATE TAX BODY

Kenneth R. Conley of Healdsburg has submitted his name for election to the State Board of Equalization to fill the position vacated by the retirement of Richard Collins.

He is the owner of the Hotel Plaza in Healdsburg, and for 11 years was engaged in business in San Francisco. He is a member of the AFofL Culinary Workers Union and president of the Sonoma County Tavern Owners Association.

By reason of his former business connections which ave brought him into contact with the activities of the State Board of Equalization, he feels that he is qualified to fill the position for which he will be a candidate at the June 4 primary election.

He is 50 years old, has a wife and two children, a boy and a girl. Five immediate members of his family were in the service in World War II and two veterans of the recent war are now in his employ.

"Get Licenses Early" Is Plea to State's Anglers

SACRAMENTO, April 11 —(UP)— Fishing season opens May 1 and California anglers are asked by H. R. Dunbar, chief of the Bureau of licenses, to begin buying their licenses now to avoid throwing a heavy strain on the under-staffed bureau by a last minute rush.

Dunbar said that this year's sale is expected to be heaviest on record —last year's total of $1,100,000 was the previous high—and late applicants may find a temporarily exhausted supply of licenses.

A Rexall PRODUCT

THE Rexall PRESCRIPTION SERVICE IS SECOND TO NONE

YOU can rest assured that your doctor's prescription receives the attention it deserves when you bring it to this Rexall drug store. Our first job — our most important job — is to compound that prescription exactly as your doctor has ordered. Every ingredient must be fresh and full strength. Every prescription is filled by our experienced, licensed pharmacist. And, important, too, is the fact that you can be confident of Rexall's policy of "common sense" prices that you can afford.
